

Genealogy Research Weekend Package

Six Chimneys & A Dream
Historical B&B and Stagecoach Stop

Have you always wondered about your ancestors and where they came from? Now is the time to find out.

Six Chimneys & A Dream is proud to offer an intensive weekend course in genealogical research presented by Ron Collins, GR and Historian. The course will get those new to genealogical research started on the right track and aid those who have already begun their research with helpful suggestions and solutions for difficulties finding information. We will begin our program on Friday evening with a catered meal at 6:30PM, followed by an overview of and introduction to the program. You will have time to do some browsing of recommended websites that night. Saturday morning begins with a delicious breakfast, and then we really get down to business. Ron will demonstrate on-line research techniques, discuss other avenues for finding information, and supply course materials. There will be a break for lunch and a little time for individual researching or story-sharing. We will finish up the workshop Saturday afternoon. Saturday evening you'll have dinner out at the Homestead Restaurant. Sunday morning brings another fabulous breakfast among new friends and then checkout.
